Customised Employment: Diving into Discovery

Free Workshop

Discovery starts with the understanding that everyone can work. The process looks deeply into who a person is and how they can contribute in a work environment. Specifically, Discovery focuses on three main areas: a person's interests, contributions and conditions for success. Undertaking the Discovery Process for a person with disability can help improve their chances of finding meaningful work. Come along to learn more!

What is School To Work?

The School to Work Project aims to inspire and equip students with disability, through the support of families, to actively secure jobs and pursue careers.

Topics

- Overview of Customised Employment
- The benefits of Discovery and starting with the person, not starting with the job
- Steps of the Discovery Process
- Overview of Discovery Documents

Who is this workshop for?

Family members of a person with disability, professionals engaged in supporting people with disability to find work, allies of people with disability.
